

Allred Metal Products, Inc.

In realizing that a subcontractor is only as good as its' on-time efficiency and quality, Allred Metal Products is dedicated to providing the best services to their clients, whether the clients are general contractors or owners. Allred Metal Products is continually striving to maintain client relationships and nurture referrals through providing unparalleled attention to detail and seamless production practices on every project. Quality and integrity are standards that enable Allred Metal Products to tackle any size structural steel and varied metal projects, which make them a valued member of any project's construction team.

Challenges

- Manual tracking of data in repetitive formats and sources
- Duplicate data entry and storage – with associated overhead of expense and risk
- Lacked process standardization of RFI process resulting in potential loss of business and/or profit

Solution with ConstructHub

- Streamlined, single-source of data capture
- Elimination of workflow redundancies
- Instantaneous project status access and communications
- No software to download – no PC or network bottlenecks

Results with ConstructHub

- RFI process standardization
- Improved human resource efficiencies
- Increased production
- Improved adherence to core business value of quality and integrity in all client relationships

“While not yet fully leveraging all aspects and innovative features ConstructHub offers, we can easily forecast an increase in time savings and profits due to ConstructHub's simplicity of use and tracking capabilities.”

Fred Keck, General Manager
Allred Metal Products, Inc.

“Since there is no software to download and training was minimal, ConstructHub was effortless to implement and required zero ‘downtime’. ConstructHub has proven to be a vital tool in our production management.”
