ConstructHub™ Announces Support for Mozilla Firefox® Company Commitment to Product Independence Expands

TEMPE, Arizona, 24-JUNE-2007 05:00 AM ConstructHub, a leading provider of Construction and Project Management tools, announces support for Mozilla Firefox browser. The expanded Internet portal fulfills ConstructHub's core value of remaining technologically platform independent. Privately held, ConstructHub has no proprietary allegiances to any platform, operating systems, browsers, servers, or databases.

Using ConstructHub and Mozilla Firefox allows owners, municipalities, contractors, architects, engineers, sub contractors and suppliers on-demand access to mission-critical construction project data. ConstructHub additionally supports Internet Explorer, Palm OS and Windows Mobile browsers.

ConstructHub was conceptually designed and developed by experienced construction professionals. Frustrated by clunky, slow applications that did not intercommunicate, ConstructHub was founded to streamline construction business processes and delivers measurable efficiencies through the improved visibility into financial, human resources, and project management functions of construction management.

“ConstructHub has given us the ability to monitor all of our projects' status at anytime, from anywhere. Using Mozilla Firefox, we have user-friendly access to accurate information at our fingertips; proving invaluable to running our business” shares ConstructHub user and Palisade Construction Inc. President, Keith Wilson.

ConstructHub is a proven product that leads the market in ease-of-use, single point of entry, 24/7 access to current data, providing accurate real-time visibility into business operations for the numerous stakeholders in construction management.
